

Songs of Frank Sinatra – Volume 1

78 RPM Albums

Label 39C

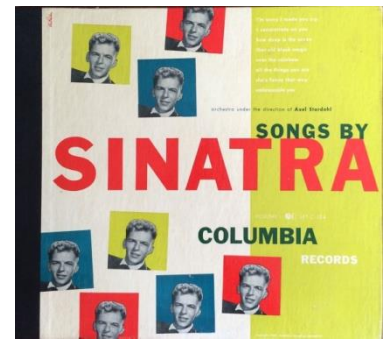

Mono

C-124

Red label with Columbia notes and CBS microphone at top.

Under COLUMBIA is written a two-line patent and trademark statement. The only patent mentioned by number is 1,702,564.

First appearance in Billboard: April 12, 1947 (advance)

The album title was also the title of Frank's program for CBS radio.

This release is known with two inside back covers, and two back covers. These cover configurations were released in the following order:

1. The back cover is blue. Album C-113 is the highest-numbered album listed in the inside back cover. That album is pictured at the right side of the middle row. At the bottom is a description of Columbia's lamination process. The liner shows the manufacturer as Columbia Recording Corporation.
2. The back cover is red. Album C-113 is the highest-numbered album listed in the inside back cover. That album is pictured at the right side of the middle row. At the bottom is a description of Columbia's lamination process. The liner shows the manufacturer as Columbia Recording Corporation.
3. The back cover is red. Album C-121 is the highest-numbered album listed in the inside back cover. The album pictured at the right side of the middle row is album C-119. These copies date later in 1947, since the manufacturer name has been changed to Columbia Records, Inc.

10" LP Albums

Label 48

Mono

CL-6087

Red label with "long playing" and "microgroove" at the bottom

First appearance in Billboard: January 28, 1950

The first covers were color-toned olive green. The second covers were two-toned pink or yellow.

Label 48a

Mono

CL-6087

Red label with "long playing" at the bottom

