An Unforgettable Album by Nat “King” Cole

These are the known commercial pressings of Nat “King” Cole’s Unforgettable LP.

Ten-Inch LP, Capitol H-357

Label CAP49. Purple label with “Long Playing” and “Microgroove” at the bottom (1952-53) The front cover shows the titles in no box. The back cover has “There must be magic…” text with stars above and below it. Also available as a two-EP set as Album EBF-357. Released October, 1952.

Label CAP54. Purple label with “Long Playing” at the bottom and a ring around the label (1954-56)

Twelve-Inch LP, Capitol T-357

Contains four additional songs that were not on the 10” LP. See the EP listing for more.

Label CAP54t. Turquoise label with “Long Playing” at the bottom and a ring around the label. (1956) The back cover has “There must be magic…” in an oval.

At this point, the EP set was reissued into EAP 1-357, 2-357, and 3-357.

Label CAP56. Turquoise label with “Long Playing” but no ring (1956-7)
Label CAP57. Turquoise label with “Long Playing High Fidelity” and additional rim text (1957-8)
The additional rim text contains the patent number for T-Rim, which Capitol obtained the rights to use in October, 1956.

Label CAP58. Rainbow label with LONG PLAYING HIGH FIDELITY across label (1959)

Label CAP60. Rainbow label with spires (1960-1961)

A new cover begins during the run. This new cover has a color photo of Nat. The title information is to the left and below his picture. A Star Line logo appears on the cover. The back cover shows color images of other Capitol albums and does not have the catalog number to this album in the upper right corner. See below.

At some point Capitol formally moved the record to the Star Line, which was using a gold backdrop. This probably happened in 1961, before the switch to the black-and-white back cover with LP photos. The rainbow label and this label may have run concurrently.

Label SL60. Metallic gold label (1961)
During the run, the back cover reverted to the original back cover to T-357, with “There must be magic....’’
Label CAP62. Rainbow label with logo at top (1962). Some back covers still have “There must be magic.”

Other back covers showed black-and-white images of (different) Star Line albums and had T-357 in the upper right corner.

Label SL62. Black label, mono T-357 (1962-1966)
Label SL62. Black label, Duophonic DT-357 (9/65-66)
Duophonic copies have a different track order than mono copies through the target-label pressing. The back cover began (mono only) as shown above.

During the black-label run, Capitol again redesigned the cover. The titles are now at the top above Nat’s photograph. The back cover pictures Cole LP’s.

Label SL67. Target label, mono T-357 (1967)
Label SL67. Target label, Duophonic DT-357 (1967-1969)
After April, 1967, Capitol changed the Duophonic bar to read simply “for stereo phonographs” and added a Gold Record Award seal. Capitol record-club issues from 1969 have the catalog number DT-8-0357.

Label SL69. Star label, DT-357 (1969-72)
At some point during the run, Capitol changed the cover prefix from DT- to ST-, indicating True Stereo. At that point the back cover changed again, this time to a black background with a photo of Nat.
Label SL72. Flat gold label with “C” logo, DT-357 (1972-4)
RCA Record Club issues were on this label with the number R-132474.

Twelve-Inch LP, Capitol SM-357

Label CAP72y. Yellow budget label without rights disclaimer (1972-1975)
Columbia Record Club issues were on the orange label with the number SM-500357.

Label CAP72ry. Yellow budget label with rights disclaimer (1975-1980)

Label CAP78. Purple label with large logo (1978-1980)
On this particular record, the purple label is probably an error. The title is still shown as “Unforgettable Songs by Nat King Cole” instead of the later form of “Songs By Nat King Cole: Unforgettable.” The font is also different from the earlier labels. Therefore, these were likely pressed after yellow labels ran out.

Twelve-Inch LP, Capitol SN-16162

Label CAP78g. Green budget label (1981-1988)
Extended Play Releases

Album EBF-357
This two-disc set first appears in Billboard in the July 18, 1953, issue. Both the label and cover have the EBF- prefix. Two discs.

Album 357
The two-disc set was reissued without the EBF- prefix at some point prior to the release of the twelve-inch album.

Separate EP’s EAP 1-357, 2-357, and 3-357

Featuring the same labels as the above issue (on discs 1 and 2).

The third EP actually contains four songs that are not found on the original eight-song LP: “Answer Me, My Love,” “Hajji Baba,” “Pretend,” and “Make Her Mine.” These were the songs that were added in 1956 to create the 12” album.

The four songs had been released in 1952-4 on singles:
“Pretend” (Capitol F-2346) – recorded in December, 1952, and released in 1/53.
“Answer Me, My Love” (Capitol F-2687) – recorded in December, 1953, and released in 12/53.
“Make Her Mine” (Capitol F-2803) – recorded in 1953 and released in 6/54.
“Hajji Baba” (Capitol F-2949) – recorded in July, 1954, and released in 10/54.

On March 15, 1952, Capitol advertised the first 71 members of the “1600” series. These records were “back-to-back hits” – designed to fill juke boxes. Capitol gradually added to the series, eventually including “Unforgettable.”
Label CAP56. All-purple label with no silver band; small 45 logo (1956-1959)
Capitol F1689 “Unforgettable”/ “Pretend”

The single does not appear on the 1959 label style, so presumably “Unforgettable” was not available as a single for two years. Its next appearance came in January, 1961.

Label C33. Black rainbow label with “Capitol 33 Compact”
Capitol M-4515 “Unforgettable”/ “Mona Lisa”

Note: the matrix number indicates the same version of the song that we find on Capitol 1808 and Capitol F1689.

After that brief appearance as a compact 33 single, “Unforgettable” was reissued onto the Star Line on December 30, 1963:

Capitol Star Line 6044 “Unforgettable”/ “Somewhere Along the Way”
From this point on, singles used the version of the song(s) that Nat had re-recorded for stereo in 1961 – for inclusion on the album, The Nat King Cole Story (Capitol SWCL-1631).
Released December 30, 1963.
The single may have been out of print from 1965 to 1967. No copies are known to exist on the green swirl label.

Label SL81x. Blue label with dome logo and X- prefix (1981-1986)
This error pressing shows the correct X- prefix.

Label SL86. Rainbow label with Star Line logo (1986-1988)
In July, 1983, all new singles were transferred to the new Capitol label style, a rainbow label which had been used on LP's in the 60's. This new rainbow label appeared on Star Line singles sometime in 1986 and featured the rim print in the rainbow itself, which the earlier versions did not do. Star Line singles have a Star Line logo on the label.
Label SL88. In the summer of 1988, all Capitol singles switched to the "new purple" label. The label resembles the 70's label somewhat, but the rim print starts with "MANUFACTURED BY CAPITOL." Star Line singles have a Star Line logo on the label.
