

"Mrs. Lennon"/"Midsummer New York"

Yoko Ono

First appearance in trade magazines: September 25, 1971

YOKO ONO/PLASTIC ONO BAND (Apple 1839)
Mrs. Lennon (4:12) (Ono Music, BMI-Yoko Ono)
Change of pace for Yoko puts her in immediate chart contention as she delivers a most beautiful ballad culled from her just released "Fly" album. Single adds new dimension to artists talents as she can now appeal to both AM and underground markets. Flip: "Midsummer New York" (3:52) (same credits)

YOKO ONO/PLASTIC ONO BAND, "MRS. LENNON"
(Ono, BMI). Mrs. Lennon stands a good shot at general acceptance with "Mrs. Lennon." She sings it nicely and husband John accompanies on piano, B w "Midsummer New York" (Ono, BMI). Apple 1839.

Factories: Scranton (?); Los Angeles; Jacksonville; Winchester

Released in late September in America and a month later in Great Britain, Yoko's first solo single wound up making the charts. Although it was not a Top Forty hit, the record's success demonstrated that Yoko was capable of releasing AM-radio fare if she chose to do so.
