THE BEACH BOYS—It's O.K. (2:08); producer: Brian Wilson, writers: Brian Wilson-Michael Love, publisher: Brother, BMI, Reprise 1368 (Warner Bros.). A welcome ditty, very much in the vein of the great early Beach Boys classics, but with the emphasis on general good vibes activities rather than concentrating on surfing or hotrods. The studio sound is cleanly spare and this song is a natural second single release from the album that has already hit with a Chuck Berry classic

Pressed by Capitol Records, Los Angeles

THE BEACH BOYS, "IT'S O.K." (prod. by Brian Wilson) (writers: Wilson & Love) (Brother, BMI) (2:08). The song did not exactly jump off the album, but as a single, it works remarkably well. It's another summer celebration as only they know how to produce. The saxophone is played by Roy Wood and it's more than "O.K." Brother-Reprise RPS 1368 (WB).

Factory:
Columbia Santa Maria

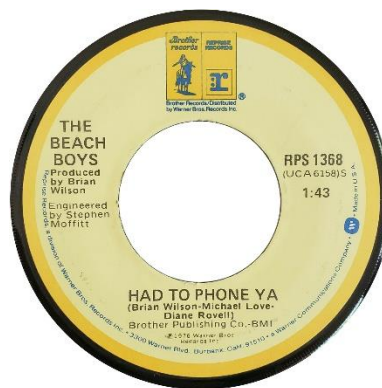

While Columbia was preparing copies of the single for release, Warner Brothers signed an agreement with Capitol Records to use its three pressing plants to make records for Warner. Columbia stopped making the single, and Capitol began immediately. Apparently, Columbia had not yet prepared any promotional singles, for every known copy was pressed by Capitol's LA plant.
