Sticker:

The first copies have a sticker on the front cover promoting the inclusion of "Border Song."

with one of the top LP's of the week, both realively and commercially. His song, 'Border Song,' now receiving much attention is featured, along with exceptional, original material such as the ballad beauty, "I Need You to Turn to," and the compelling "Sixty Years On." The superb arrangements of Paul Buckmaster are as realive as the material of John and cowriter Bernie Taupin. Elton John Uni 93090

Reissue: 1971 to 1973

In April 1971, Uni Records announced that it was increasing the price of all Elton John albums. This prompted the label to change the numbering from the 73000s to the 93000s.

LOS ANGELES—Uni Records has increased the suggested list price on all Elton John and Neil Diamond albums to $5.98: the old price was $4.98. Russ Regan. vice president and general manager of the label said that distributors were notified of the price increases about a week ago.

Among the albums assigned potentially higher-priced numbers are Elton John's "Madman Across the Water," from Uni 93120 to MCA 2016; Elton John's first album from Uni 93090 to MCA 2012, and the Who "Live at Leeds" from Decca DL7-9175 to MCA 2022. If and when the increase comes on these catalogue albums to $6.98 potential dealer confusion will be eliminated; MCA will merely indicate that the entire 2100 series will be priced at $6.98 while any other series remains the same.

After MCA phased out the Decca label in 1972, the Uni catalog kept the same catalog numbers Uni through the year 1973. However, at the beginning of 1974, MCA announced another price increase to $6.98 after placing Elton John's catalog into its MCA-2 series.

ELTON JOHN, "TUMBLEWEED CONNECTION." Elton John does an album distinguished by a subtle concept—a musical portrait of Western Americana. This is one of the last things expected from two British lads (John and his genius lyricist Bernie Taupin), but here it is, nevertheless. Will be to 1971 what Elton John was to 1970—one of the year's best. Uni 73096 (MCA).

ELTON JOHN-11-17-70, Uni 93105 ($)

Not much has to be written about the latest Elton John LP. It is a live performance, recorded in front of about 150 people in a studio. The LP contains excellent versions of "Honky Tonk Women," "Sixty Years On," and "Burn Down the Mission," The audience reaction hears is fantastic and so is the entire performance.

ELTON JOHN, "HONKY CHATEAU." As "Rocket Man" soars up The Singles Chart, so may we expect the same for this wonderful album. Gus Dudgeon's production is flawless, while all John-Taupin compositions are up to anything they've done in the past. Big album, Uni 93135 (MCA).

Some of the records may exist for which I have left blank space in this document. Furthermore, it's quite possible that there are records out there that were released between 1970 and 1990 and for which I have not left any space here. If you happen to see any out there in your collection — or in the wild — please let me know.
