

"Goodnight Tonight"/"Daytime Nighttime Suffering"

First appearance in trade magazines: March 24, 1979

Seven-Inch Single

Label 73dj

Columbia

3-10939

White label mono/stereo promotional single of the A-side.

WINGS (Columbia 3-10939)
Goodnight Tonight (4:18) (MPL Communications — ASCAP) (P. McCartney)

McCartney split from Capitol to join Columbia and this first release on his new label marks another departure for Wings: this single with its percussion undercurrents and muscular bass playing is likely to receive disco play. Acoustic and electric guitars offer interesting flourishes. This is an unusual effort for McCartney.

WINGS—Good Night Tonight (4:18): producer: Paul McCartney, writer: McCartney, publisher: MPL Communications ASCAP. Columbia 310939. McCartney's first release WINGS after 15 years on Capitol is an odd disco-tinged track emphasizing strange experimental sound effects. It is much more a record than a song, with the production embellishments counting more than the melody and lyrics.

Label 73

Columbia

3-10939

Orange/yellow/white label with no rim print.

There was no picture sleeve to accompany this single.

PRODUCT IN THE MAIL — Columbia is releasing this week "Goodnight Tonight," a commercial 12" by Paul McCartney and Wings. Vince Pellegrino reports his testing at Xenon and New York New York brought strong responses to this late night groove track. . . . West

Twelve-Inch Single

Label 73dj

Columbia

23-10940

White label long/short promotional single of the A-side.

Label 70m

Columbia

23-10940

Hot pink label with "Columbia" in white six times.

Observe that the matrix numbers follow this sequence: GT – Long; GT – short (12"); DNS (12"); GT (mono promo 7"); GT (commercial 7"); DNS (7"). The 12" single came out with one of two promotional contents stickers, with the blue sticker being attached to plain white covers – a temporary replacement for the picture cover.